Q 9 Numb. 1003

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, July 3. 1705.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 2.

Trent, June 18.

THE 4 Regiments of Palatins which pass'd through this place some Days ago to the Army under Prince Eugene of Savoy encamp'd at Gavardo, have been follow'd by several hundred Dragoons, with Horses for remounting that Princes' Regiment. Ammunition of all sorts for that Army passes daily by Water by this Place; and 30 Field-Pieces have been sent from hence thither. We have Advice, that the Body of Imperial Troops at Navi is reinforc'd to 12000 Men; and that 'twas believ'd the Count de Rocavione who commands them, will advance towards Monte-chiare and the Bridge of St. Mark, while Prince Eugene makes a Motion another way with the rest of his Army.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated July 7.

Turin, June 17. The Enemy continuing to threaten us with a Siege, nothing is omitted here for putting us into a good Condition of Defence. The Enemy's Army under the Duke of Vendome has pass'd the Doria Baltea, and is advanc'd towards Rondizzone; where they have their Right, and their Left at Torazza. At their Approach our Cavalry retir'd towards Chivas, and our Infantry entred the Line of Communication which his Royal Highness has caus'd to be made between Chivas and the Po, with design to make a vigorous Defence. In order to which, he has caus'd Castagnito situate on a rising Ground on the other side of the River to be fortified, and a Line of Communication to be drawn from the River to the Castle of Zerrice; and some Battallions of our new rais'd Militia are already arriv'd to guard those Posts with our regular Troops. His Royal Highness has also not only set Men to work on the Fortifications of this Place, but likewise to raise Redoubts on the Hill over against us; and he causes all the Forrage of the adjacent Country to be brought in hither; Mean while, the Enemy must necessarily attack Chivas before they can come at us, and we hope Prince Eugene will have Time enough to come down from the Mountains into the flat Country, to march to our Relief through the State of Milan, whither the Duke of Vendome will be oblig'd to send Troops to oppose him; Yesterday his Royal Highness receiv'd Letters from that Prince, acquainting him that he will speedily march down from the Mountains, and that he is disposing all things for that March.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 7.

Milan, June 23. The Duke of Vendome having pass'd the Doria with all his Troops, and being joyn'd by his heavy Artillery, has besieg'd Chivas, ; but the Duke of Savoy having put a good Garrison into that Place, and having provided it with all things for a vigorous Defence, has posted himself with the rest of his Troops on the other side of the Po, in an advantagious Post that is well fortified, whence he sends Troops over a Bridge of Communication into the Place, as he did at Verue. We make no doubt Prince Eugene of Savoy, who has been joyn'd by all the Men and Artillery he expects, will speedily march this way, it being likely the Grand Prior will not be able to hinder him, having too great an Extent of Ground to guard.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 2.

Cracow, June 18. The Diet of the Nobility of the Palatinat of Sendomir, held at Opatow, broke up the 11th Instant, after they had resolv'd to quit the Party of King Augustus, and enter into the Confederacy of great Poland; and to send 2 Deputies to the King of Sweden and the new elected King Stanislaus, 2 to the Cardinal Primate, 2 to General Stromberg, 2 to Collonel Klerk, 2 to the Palatinat of Lublin, 2 to the Army of the Crown and to the Marshal of the Confederacy, and 2 to the Palatin of Kiovia. Monsieur Smiegelski, with his own Troops and 100 Saxons, surpriz'd the 12th Instant those who were at this Diet; and seiz'd the Marshal, the Castellan, and the Secretary of the Palatinat of Sendomir, with other Persons of Quality, and casried them off Prisoners to Brzeze in Lithuania: A Detachment of the Swedes went in pursuit of him; but not overtaking him return'd.

From the Amsterdam Gazettze, dated July 7.

Amsterdam, July 7. The last Letters from Poland assure us, that while the Nobility of Sendomir were assembled, Monsieur Smigielski Starost of Gniesen surpriz'd them, within an hour after they had agreed to declare for the Swedes; and that after he had seiz'd most of the Deputies, and sent them to Lublin, he fell upon 400 Swedes, and 2000 Walachians the same Day at Lastow, and put them all to the Sword, the Swedish Officers excepted, whom he made Prisoners. After this Action, Monsieur Smigielski march'd with 2000 Saxon Horse, a like number of Polish confederate Troops, and 1000 Men of his own Troops, to joyn General Schulenbourg, who was on the other side of the Vistula, and to facilitate the Passage of the Army of King Augustus that is expected in Poland from Saxony.

The Advices of the 1st Instant from the Electorate of Saxony import, that the Swedes continue in their Quarters in the upper Poland, and in Silesia; and that King Augustus of Poland was expected daily at Dresden, to take a Review of 7 or 8000 Men that are encamp'd in the neigbboured of that Place: That the Town of Lubben on the Frontier of Lusace is fortifying; and that 4 or 5000 Men, most Muscovites are encamp'd near that Place: That the Arriere-Ban of the Nobility of the Grand Dutchy of Lithuania (50 or 60000 Men in Number) is summon'd to mount on Horseback for King Augustus: And that the Princess Sobieski is expected at Leipsick from Vienna, having leave to come to her Husband who is kept confin'd there.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 7.

Paris, June 29. We have receiv'd Advice, that the Marshal de Villars is marching to joyn the Marshal de Marsin, and 'tis thought they will together besiege Landau. Yesterday an Express arriv'd at Court from the Duke of Vendome, with Advice that the 21st the Trenches were open'd before Chivas. That the Prince d' Elbœuf being sent out with 3 Squadrons against some of the Enemy's Horse, that appear'd in View of our Army, was repuls'd being inferiour to them in Number, with great Loss, he himself being kill'd, and Monsieur de Marsillac Collonel of Foot mortally wounded. This Prince d' Elbœuf is much lamented; he being the last of his Race: And 'tis taken Notice of, that 3 Branches of the House of Lorrain have been extinguish'd in this War, viz, those of Elbœuf, Vandemont, and Commerci.

Kinsale,

Kinſale, June 24. Her Majeſty's Ship the Centurian Capt. Cooper Commander, paſs'd by this place for Corke Harbour Yeſterday with 55 Sail of Ships under his Convoy from Portugal, 33 whereof are Tranſports in Her Majeſty's Service. The Fleet conſiſted upwards of 300 Sail of Engliſh and Dutch when they left Lisbon, and had for Convoy 6 Men of War, viz. The Swiftſure Capt. Wynne, Monk Capt. Mighells, Greenwich Capt. Bertie, Centurion Capt. Cooper, Swallow Capt. Haddock, Roebuck Capt. Kempthorne. The 3 firſt are gone for England, with part of the Fleet bound that Way, which the reſt parted with the 19th Inſtant, in the Lati ude of 49 Degrees; the 2 latter are return'd to Lisbon, having ſeen the Fleet part of the Way.

Briſtol, June 30. On Thurſday arriv'd here 2 Galleys both from Leghorne; and the Corke Galley of 8 Guns from Antegoa: The Captain of which gives this Account. 'The 8th Inſtant being 5 Leagues S. W. from London-derry, and having little 'Wind at S. S. W. at 2 a Clock in the Morning I 'ſaw 2 Ships rowing up to me; I had than 3 Ships 'in my Company, viz. the Concord Galley of 14 'Guns Capt. Quick Commander, the London Galley 'of 16 Guns, and the James of 4 Guns; the ſaid '2 Ships prov'd to be French Privateers, one of 16 'Guns the other of 14; they came up firſt with the 'Concord Galley and fir'd a Broadſide upon her, 'which ſhe return'd, Then they left her and bore 'under my Lee, and the largeſt of the Privateers 'laid me on board under my Bow, and laſh'd her 'ſelf to my Fore-Chains; in half an Hour's Diſpute 'I put her off: Mean time my 3 Conſorts made 'the beſt of their Way, leaving me 3 Hours to the 'Enemy, in which Time I was much diſabled in 'Sails and Rigging, and receiv'd ſeveral Shot be'tween Wind and Water. At 5 a Clock 2 of my 'Conſorts clap'd cloſe upon a Wind and came to 'my Aſſiſtance, and we came off clear, I having 1 'Man kill'd and 5 wounded.

Plymouth, June 29. Yeſterday came in Her Majeſty's Ship the Rye, and brought in with her the Mary Roſe of St. Malo of 10 Guns, and about 80 Tuns, laden with Sugar and Cotton from St. Domingo. This Day came in Her Majeſty's Ships the Exeter, Windſor, Mary, and Chatham from the Weſtward; and Admiral Bing with the reſt of his Squadron paſs'd by this Harbour for Torbay.

Shields, Jun 28. The 26th came to our Bar, about 70 or 80 Sail of Ships bound for Ruſſia under Convoy of 7 Men of War, viz. the Pendennis, Solebay, Dover, Sorlings, Crown, Tilbury, Kinſale: The 3 laſt go to Archangel, the reſt but part of the Way. To Day the ſaid Ruſſia Fleet ſail'd with a fair Wind. This Day ſail'd out of our Port about 100 Sail of laden Colliers without Convoy; tho' we have 3 Men of War now here, viz. the Sheerneſs, Dolphin, and Nightingale.

Yarmouth, June 29. Yeſterday Morning ſail'd from hence the Marquis of Carmarthen with the Squadron under his Command, and divers Merchant Ships bound for Holland.

Harwich, June 30. Laſt Night the Marquis of Carmarthen in the Wincheſter, with 6 other Men of War, and the William and Mary, and Peregrine-Yatcht arriv'd here from Yarmouth Roads, with a Fleet of Merchant Ships under their Convoy bound for Rotterdam.
